Well Known in Musical and Club
Affairs of State and Former Resident of City

END COMES PEACEFULLY

Funeral Services Will Be Held
Sunday Afternoon With
Interment in Fairview

Mrs. Sara E. Cushing, wife of Walter F. Cushing, editor of the Beach Advance, one of the most widely known women in North Dakota, succumbed to a long illness in a hospital here at 5:10 o'clock this morning. The family of Mrs. Cushing was with her at the end, which came peacefully while she was in a state of unconsciousness.

A resident of Fargo, Beach and Bismarck at various times, Mrs. Cushing was interested in club and musical affairs, and her friendships extended throughout the entire state. It was her devotion of music which overtaxed her strength and brought on the fatal illness. Mrs. Cushing had brought many great musicians and musical productions into the state. She had arranged to bring the New York Philharmonic orchestra to Fargo and although she was ill she could not pass the management on to another, and her strength was greatly overtaxed. She was on her way to her home in Beach after this production and stopped in Bismarck to consult physicians. She became ill, was taken to a hospital, eight weeks ago, and though she made a valiant fight she had been steadily losing ground for several days.

Mrs. Cushing underwent an operation a year and a half ago and recent complications led to her death.

Funeral Here Sunday

Funeral services will be held in Bismarck Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Episcopal church. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery here in the family lot. Mrs. Cushing having expressed the wish a year ago that the family obtain a burial lot in Bismarck, their former home.

Sara L. Elvira Ellis was born in Manistee, Michigan, Oct. 15, 1863. She was reared in the city, graduated from the high school, academy, and attended a girls' college. Later she moved to Chicago, where a sister resided. While on a visit to North Dakota she met Walter F. Cushing, and they were married in Chicago, in 1892. They have resided in North Dakota since that time. A husband and four children, Mrs. B. B. Tiltonson, of Fargo; Mrs. Basil McGee, of Kidder county; Charles W. Cushing, of Chicago; and Martha G., a 14-year-old daughter are the members of the immediate surviving family. All of these were in Bismarck at her bedside, together with Mrs. C. B. Simons, her only sister, of Chicago. A brother, E. H. Ellis lives in Wahpeton.

Interested in Clubs

Mrs. Cushing always considered Bismarck her home as she lived here many years. Her husband being formerly editor of The Tribune and secretary to the railroad commission. She was a charter member of the Monday club, and was a member of the Musical club of Fargo. Mrs. Cushing was active in music affairs of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and had been president of the press committee of the federation for years. She was a charming writer. One of her works was an elaborately illustrated story of the city of Bismarck from the time of its founding until a few years ago.

SCIENCE VS. LAW

MRS. FANNIE LIEBOWITZ

Doctors Will Try to Cure Woman, Confessed Burglar, After Courts Fail

By Newspaper Enterprise.

New York, July 29.—Following failure of the law, science will try to cure the burglary tendencies of Mrs. Fannie Liebowitz, third time offender. Dr. E. H. Vaughan, called into conference by Judge Bayes, says the woman is a victim of hypo-thyroidism. Under an assumed name she is to be placed in a hospital for three months' experimental treatment. It is the first time such treatment ever has been administered to a person of so-called criminal tendencies.

Hypo-thyroidism causes a dulled mentality, due to the fact that there is insufficient secretion from the thyroid gland. If the amount of secretion is increased to normal, mentality or intelligence is stimulated, and the person begins to reason correctly and to distinguish between right and wrong.

Mrs. Liebowitz, mother of five children, at 36 has three times confessed to burglary. Yet her husband earns a good living for his family, and they are well provided for.

After doctors have restored Mrs. Liebowitz's thyroid gland to normal, she will be placed under conditions favorable to stealing. Unknown to herself, of course.

The way in which she reacts will determine the success of the experiment, which both the medical and legal world is watching with interest.

TEACHERS WILL BE MORE ABLE IN NEXT YEAR

State Superintendent Says They Will be Better Prepared
Than Ever

Teachers will go into the schools of North Dakota in the fall better prepared than ever for teaching, declared Miss Minnie N. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction, today.

Over 3,000 teachers are enrolled in the summer normal schools in the state at Dickinson, Ellendale, Minot, Valley City and Mayville. This is the largest number enrolled in summer schools in the history of the state. Miss Nielson said. These schools are offering twelve-week courses for the first time.

"Growth in Service" has been adopted as the slogan of North Dakota teachers," said Miss Nielson. "It has been most encouraging to note the earnest efforts of teachers to advance professionally. The attendance of the summer normal schools is greater than ever, and even in the hot weather they have not complained but have eagerly sought to better prepare themselves. They have greatly appreciated the enlarged courses offered in the normal schools."

One of the first general school movements in the fall will be a campaign to prepare teachers to better wage a fight on illiteracy, according to the state superintendent. Mrs. Corn Wilson Stewart, of Washington, D. C., chairman of the literacy committee of the National Educational Association, who won country-wide fame with her moonlight schools in the Kentucky hills where she taught old men and women to read and write, will spend the first three weeks of October in the state. She will study conditions here and will lecture at the various county institutes.

New Brunswick, N. J., July 29.—Dr. John Tyger, United States Commissioner of Education, asserted yesterday that college graduates were as ignorant of matters of history as Thomas A. Edison had claimed, as a result of his examination of applicants for jobs.

Speaking before the New Jersey educational conference Dr. Tyger said that anyone who had taught in college 15 years knew how weak the college student was, particularly in questions of history.

He argued for a broader history teaching in the schools with less national boasting and more appreciation of the contributions of every nation to civilization.

Many Underwood and Bismarck friends were grieved to learn of the passing of Mrs. E. M. Houghtaling, who died at her home in Underwood at 5:25 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mrs. Houghtaling had been a sufferer for a long time from diabetes, but had been able to be up and around most of the time till the first part of this week, when she became seriously ill, passing into a state of coma Wednesday morning and remaining unconscious till the end. At her bedside, when the sad event occurred were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Houghtaling, of Blackwater; her two brothers and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moffit, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Moffit, of Moffit, N. D., and Mrs. J. U. Caldwell, Mrs. Emmett Duffy and Mrs. G. T. Smith, friends of the deceased, who had been helping in her care. Miss Clara Handy had also been helping during the past few days. Mrs. Houghtaling was 63 years, five months and 23 days of age at the time of her passing.

Ellie M. Moffit was born January 29, 1858, near Battle Creek, Mich., moving with her people to Illinois and later to Iowa, before coming to North Dakota. Her marriage occurred in Iowa, in 1876, to Mr. Henry Houghtaling, who still survives. Three sons were born to this union, one of them passed away at the age of 16 years, having been drowned in Apple Creek in 1900. The family moved to North Dakota in 1886, living first at Sterling east of Bismarck, and later in Bismarck, where they spent 11 years. They came to Underwood when the Soo railway was put through, residing here ever since.

The deceased joined the Baptist church at an early age, later transferring to the Methodist church of Underwood. STATES SUFFERS NEW DEFEAT IN BASEBALL TRIAL

Judge Friend Rules Out Confession of Felsch on Rebuttal Evidence

ALSO HALTS ANOTHER

Temporarily Refuses to Let
State Put Des Moines, Ia.,
Man on Stand

Chicago, July 29.—The prosecution in the baseball trial today began its closing arguments, abandoning a previously announced plan to put Joe Gedeon, a former St. Louis player on the witness stand. Edward Prindle made the first closing argument for the prosecution.

Chicago, July 29.—Fighting desperately in a final attempt to tighten the grip of the law on the defendants in the baseball trial the state today twice met defeat when Judge Frank Friend barred an alleged confession from "Happy" Felsch that he received $5,000 to throw the 1919 world series games and tentatively denied the prosecutor's attempt to recall David Zelcer, of Des Moines, Ia., another defendant, to the witness stand. Judge Friend in refusing to admit the testimony against Felsch said "it appeared that the state had gambled with the defense in strategy and lost."

Felsch's statement was alleged to have been made to a local newspaper reporter just after the first indictment. The state maintained that it had just learned of this statement but Judge Friend held that it should have been learned of it long ago and negligence in the state's attorney's office should not jeopardize the defendant.

Clerks on Stand.

"You should have brought in this testimony during your case in chief," said Judge Friend. "It is not rebuttal evidence."

While temporarily refusing to permit Zelcer to be recalled Judge Friend let the state place clerks at the hotel where Zelcer lived in Chicago on the stand to testify as to the defendant's statement that he was in Chicago and Cincinnati at the time he was alleged to have talked with Bill Burns in New York.

COST OF KINDNESS

H. C. RAWLINGS.

Tramp's Benefactor, Reformed Convict, is Recognized as Fugitive and Jailed

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Little Rock, Ark., July 29.—Ten years ago H. C. Rawlings, higanist escaped under gunfire from the Arkansas State Farm after serving only four months of a five year sentence.

For six years he traveled from coast to coast, constantly in fear of capture. Fear wore off, and four years ago, he went to Linton, Cal., and married.

He was a model husband. After three years in the railroad shops there, he was made a foreman. He provided his wife with a comfortable home.

One morning in June a tramp knocked on his door and asked for something to eat. Rawlings asked his wife to feed the man, and as the tramp left, Rawlings slipped a $2 bill into his hand.

The tramp, unrecognized by his benefactor, proved to be a former felon convict. And he "squealed."

Officials, after an investigation, arrested Rawlings and returned him to the penitentiary.

One month after Rawlings had escaped, Governor Donaghey pardoned all of the 363 penitentiary prisoners, saying that conditions there were unbearable.

DEMAND TAXES OF ELECTRIC COMPANY HERE

Sheriff Starts to Collect $13-
417.81 From the Hughes
Electric Company

SEIZURE IS HELD UP

Demand for payment of $13,417.81 taxes with penalty and interest has been made upon the Hughes Electric company by Sheriff Rollin Welch.

The sheriff acted on instructions from the State Tax Commissioner, George E. Wallace, who directed that the sheriff seize the personal property of the company unless the taxes were paid. C. L. Young, attorney for the electric company in a suit which had been started on the taxes, took up the matter. As a result no seizure is made, the matter being the subject of the negotiations between Mr. Young and E. S. Allen, who was county attorney when the taxes were due.

The tax commissioner said that when he learned that officials had not forced collection of taxes he instructed that it be done, so that the complainant in the litigation would pay the taxes and then sue to recover rather than the county waiting for the taxes until the litigation were finished.

Mr. Young said that the company began suit to restrain collection of taxes on the ground that the valuation was excessive, tendering taxes for what the company said was the just amount.

The company also is litigating the 1917 taxes, which amounted to $6,170. In that case, according to the sheriff, a restraining order was issued preventing collection. In the latter case no court order was issued to this effect.

FRENCH ACTION 'AMAZING' SAYS BRITISH NOTE

Complains of Extraordinary Action on Silesian Troops Question

REPLY IS CONCILIATORY

Premier Briand Discusses Situation with British Ambassador, Then Sees Cabinet

London, July 29 (By Associated Press).—Great Britain's note to France regarding the Silesian problem recapitulates the circumstances which led to the present situation and refutes the allegation that Great Britain had set itself against the French and was thereby strengthening the German attitude.

Officials describe the note as of a friendly character in "marked contrast to the attitude displayed in the French note to which it is a reply."

Great Britain, officials declared, is still anxious to consider any means by which the French can be met but it is emphasized that according to the news being received in London there is no danger threatening the French troops in Silesia, which renders the sending of reinforcements urgently necessary as the French have claimed.

The note calls attention to what is described as the "extraordinary action upon the part of France" in endeavoring to act independently of the supreme council in insisting upon the immediate dispatch of troops. It points out that this is an impossible basis upon which to pursue any further policy together and that no good purpose would be served by further discussion until there is a clear understanding of the French intention.

Briand Meets Cabinet

Paris, July 29. (By the Associated Press).—Great Britain's reply to the French note on the Upper Silesian question on which divergencies still exist between the two nations as to the procedure to be adopted in relation to the sending of reinforcements to the area was delivered at the foreign office by Lord Harding, the British ambassador. Four states have reported farm property valued at more than $4,000,000,000 in 1920, as follows: Iowa, $8,725,270,956; Illinois, $6,686,817,235; Texas, $4,461,579,497, and Nebraska, $4,131,252,242.

The average value of all farm property per farm in 1920 was $12,085, as compared with $6,444 in 1910.

In six states the average value reported per farm in 1920 was above $25,000. These states were Iowa, with $38,942; South Dakota, with $37,832; Nebraska, with $35,707; Nevada, with $31,446; California, with $29,158, and Illinois, with $28,109.

Value of Farm Land.
The value of farm land alone in the United States in 1920 was $54,903,453,925, as compared with $28,475,674,169 in 1910, representing an increase of $26,428,779,756, or 92.8 per cent. This value was obtained by subtracting from the value reported for farm land and buildings together total real estate value the value reported separately for buildings.

The average value of land alone per farm in 1920 was $8,514, as compared with $4,476 in 1910.

Farm Buildings.
Farm buildings in the United States were valued at $11,439,555,631 in 1920, as compared with $6,325,451,528 in 1910. This represents an increase of $5,105,404,103, or 80.7 per cent.

The average value of buildings per farm in 1920 was $1,773, while the average in 1910 was $994.

This large increase is due in part to the fact that prices of farm implements and machinery were unusually high at the beginning of the year 1920.

The value of implements and machinery per farm in 1920 was $558, as against $139 in 1910.

Much of the seized liquor is stored at Duluth, Fergus Falls, and Minneapolis, and final check and recording of the stock will necessitate several days of work. Upon relinquishing his office, Mr. Hunt will depart for Washington, where he has been assigned in the headquarters department of Commissioner Haynes' office.

The following state directors will divide the work formerly done by the headquarters here: Mr. Steenson, Minneapolis; Arthur A. Stone, La-Moure, N. D.; Isaac Pearson, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Glen A. Brunson, Algona, Iowa, and U. S. Rorer, Omaha, Neb.

Established April 1, 1920, with Paul D. Keller as supervising agent, the Northwest enforcement division's activities grew each successive month. In a report of the work done by his office for the first six months of 1921, Supervisor Hunt showed that his operatives apprehended 1,625 liquor law violators in the five states, from which 58,131 gallons of liquor and pomace were seized and against whom $2,138,510.11 of taxes and penalties were assessed.

REASSESSMENT OF MANDAN MADE

Reassessment of Mandan property, ordered by Tax Commissioner George E. Wallace, was completed today by C. L. Crum, Mandan lawyer, appointed for the purpose by Mr. Wallace.

More than 1 piece of property were changed in valuation from the assessor's figures. The valuation was increased, but Crum was unable to say this afternoon the amount of the increase. Totals were to be made by the county auditor. Considerable business property was increased in assessment.

12,000 ACRES N. D. LAND SOLD AT DEVILS LAKE

German Lutherans of Minnesota
Plan to Colonize Tract and Build Schools

$500,000 IN THE DEAL

Devils Lake, N. D. July 29.—One of the biggest land deals in the Northwest in recent years was closed late yesterday when Col. Joseph M. Kelly and John Kelly, of Devils Lake, sold their 12,000 acre tract of land surrounding Knox and Pleasant lakes, N. D. to a southern Minnesota syndicate. Approximately $500,000 was involved in the deal, it was reported, and 25 complete farms chartered hands in the transaction including the famous Pleasant Lake stock farm.

The Minnesota syndicate which acquired the land is composed of German Lutherans headed by Rev. Albert Winters, of Mankato. Rev. Winters today announced that his plans include the erection of a German Lutheran church and community centers as well as the establishment of a Lutheran college on the banks of Pleasant Lake.

A drive to colonize the tract already has begun, he said.

PHYSICIANS STUDY SKULLS OF TERRORISTS

Budapest, July 29.—Hungarian phrenologists who have made a careful study of the skulls of 30 notorious red terrorists sentenced and hanged after the fall of Communism in this country, have just reported that "Bolshevik terrorists, though exhibiting signs of abnormality, seem not to belong to the type of born degenerate criminals."

All the 30 were members of Bela Kun's fearful bodyguard called the "Lemne-boys," all were found guilty of numerous murders and robberies and examined in their lifetime by the same doctors when going under trial.

"The skulls," runs the report, "are prognathic characterized by an exceptionally low forehead, deep eye-caves, big mouth, sharp protruding jaws, deficient dentition. When compared with the skulls of notorious common murderers preserved in the museum of the police they show the signs of degeneracy in a much less degree."

"The only exception is Joseph Csany, the leader of the group, whose skull is easily first among the worst and most deformed specimens of human degeneration. When examined during his trial the savage cruel look of his small evasive eyes startled even the professional doctors of crime. Small wonder that the Bolshevik dictator of Hungary, Bela Kun, felt afraid of the man and never met the chief of his devoted bodyguard without previously slipping a revolver into his pocket."

"The medical board holds the view that the Bolshevik terrorists, through undoubtedly degenerate individuals, would under ordinary circumstances never have committed murder. But their resistance to crime was much weaker than that of the civilized type and when the solid body of law and morality was shaking with revolutionary fever their half-slumbering ferocious instincts roused up and they killed with the same passion of the neolithic man."

CLAIMS BELIEF IN INVESTMENT IN RABBIT FARM

Fargo, July 29.—The government rested today in the case against C. W. Birs, president of the defunct Fur and Specialty Farming company and others.

W. H. Barnett, counsel for the defense, in presenting the statement for defense this afternoon said that he believed Mr. Birs honestly believed in his scheme to make money by farming rabbits and other animals for their skin. Birs is scheduled to take the stand this afternoon.

ASPARAGUS CAUSES BLUES SAYS DOCTOR

Cleveland, O., July 29.—Asparagus causes "the blues," said Dr. Charles Hazzard of New York City, former president of the American Osteopathic Association. In a paper which he read today at the National Osteopathic convention, this is not the fault of the asparagus, however, explained the doctor. He did not condemn asparagus but explained that when it does cause "the blues," it is because the person's system is already clogged with its own impurities. He said: "The asparagus is the last straw which, added to the toxic state of the system, produces a physical state of the brain and nerves which is reflected as 'the blues.' This happens because the mechanistic state of the person's physical system is such that the organs of elimination have not been capable of doing their work well for such a long time that the system has become poisoned with its own debris. But had the system been kept always in good mechanical condition, elimination would always have proceeded normally, the system would have kept clear of poisons, and no bad effects would have followed the eating of asparagus, for the normal mechanism would readily throw off the acid of the vegetables."

"Mental functions, in other words, according to the speaker, markedly influenced by the condition of the blood. He explained this as follows: "In the struggle that men's physical organism must constantly keep up in order to grow, function, and keep healthy, it is always that organism that is handicapped by the presence of obstructions to the free flow of its nerve and blood currents that has the least chance to survive and keep well."

"A man's mental functions cannot keep clear and efficient and normal unless his brain and nerves are fed by copious streams of pure blood. The blood cannot be pure and circulate freely so long as the organs of elimination are obstructed."

"So it is that 'what is one man's meat becomes another man's poison.' Faulty diet is largely a matter relative to the mechanical status of the physical body of the individual."

3 OF FAMILY ELECTROCUTED

Mother Dies While Trying To Reach Bodies of Sons

Strassburg, Ohio, July 29.—Two boys and a woman were electrocuted and the father of one boy seriously burned last night when Donald Heitzman, 10, and his cousin, Harold Horn, 9, did not return from play last night. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heitzman, parents of Donald, started a search for them. They found the children dead in an alley. The boys had touched a live wire. Mr. and Mrs. Heitzman ran to pick up the bodies with the result that Mrs. Heitzman was killed instantly and Mr. Heitzman was seriously burned.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

"So it is that 'what is one man's meat becomes another man's poison.' Faulty diet is largely a matter relative to the mechanical status of the physical body of the individual."

tempt of court Henry D. Kellogg, a Chicago police sergeant, today shot and killed Lemuel Ackley, an attorney, in a crowded court room and then seriously wounded himself. Kellogg died an hour after the shooting. Surgeons then said Kellogg would recover. The affair occurred in a crowded court room and spectators said Kellogg shot Ackley in the back without warning.

London, July 29.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Lloyd George in the House of Commons today read a statement authorized by King George declaring words attributed to the king concerning the government's Irish policy. having ascribed to his majesty the word or words as stated by the prime minister yesterday. No such interview was given by me."

EFFICIENCY
Chairman Hoover of the Committee for Relief in Belgium has made his final report in the greatest humanitarian enterprise in the history of the world.

Ten million people were sustained over a period of from four to six years at a cost of $1,300,000,000.

The most interesting figures in the report is the 0.42 of 1 per cent, the cost of administration. In other words, out of every dollar spent over 99 1/2 cents reached its objective.

Even after making every allowance for the thousands who gave their services to the cause without pay, this result was a triumph of executive genius.

WASTE
Ever since the war, the Leviathan, formerly the German ship Vaterland, has been tied up at her dock at Hoboken, for all practical purposes a useless piece of junk.

It now develops that it is costing the taxpayers of the country $500,000 a year, just to maintain watchmen and caretakers aboard the ship.

Making due allowance for the enormous size of the Leviathan, a half million dollars a year seems to be an outrageously extravagant figure.

This is one of the minor incidents in the orgy of money wasting, in which the shipping board has indulged during the past two and a half years.

ECONOMY
The first act of Congressman Madden as new chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations was to introduce a resolution which should meet with general public approval.

It calls for a constitutional amendment which will make it legal for the president to vote any part of an appropriation bill without vetoing the whole bill.

The constitutional restrictions on the president in regard to appropriation bills have cost the taxpayers millions of dollars. The resolution is said to be part of the administration program for centering control of government expenditures.

MUSIC
A Boston man, undergoing an operation, refused anesthetic and steeled himself during the ordeal by playing on a mouth organ.

The power of music to make men more heroic than they otherwise would be is recognized the world over. Tribesmen marching to battle to the weird music of tom-toms and the civilized nations of the world fighting to the music of augmented brass bands both rely for victory on a stirring of the passions.

"Music, of all the liberal arts, has the greatest influence over the passions," said Napoleon. If you have not felt this influence as you have listened to a band or orchestra, you have missed an experience.

DISARMAMENT
The mixed commission on disarmament of the League of Nations is meeting in Paris to formulate at least a tentative program for disarmament to be presented to the league assembly when it meets at Geneva in September. The suggestion that the commission defer action to await the Washington disarmament conference was rejected after former Premier Viviani of France made the following illuminating and significant argument:

"The question of disarmament is so difficult, so complex and so delicate that those who approach it meet ignorance, prejudice and traditions in both military and economic fields, so that there cannot be too many men trying to solve the problem. It will not have been worth while to carry the burdens of the great war if we cannot derive from it benefits for our children."

Such sentiments from one of the most aggressive statesmen of military France indicates how world-wide is the desire for peace and relief from the burden of armaments.

RENEWING ALLIANCE
It seems pretty certain that the British-Japanese alliance is to be renewed with modifications. Though the precise nature of these modifications has not been made public there is little doubt that their purpose is to make it more certain that the treaty can in no way disturb British relations with the United States.

This has been stated upon by the premier of the British dominions, who frankly told the British premier that they considered a continuance of good relations with America of far greater importance than a renewal of the treaty.

The British premier accepted this view. Those prophets of calamity who have been talking about the probability of a war between America and Japan with Great Britain and her dominions backing the Japanese, have been undone by the events at the Imperial conference which has decided the fate of the Anglo-Japanese treaty.

POLITICS
"The time has come for woman to get into politics, for the country needs her badly," says Genevieve Chene, a lawyer of Cleveland.

And it's time that men were getting into politics, too, instead of being merely silent partners, voting once a year, and "letting George do it" the rest of the year.

Politics will continue to be the profitable game of a few men, so long as the average citizen is content to stand on the side-lines, watching the professional players.

HORSES
A census bureau report shows how motor vehicles have reduced the number of horses in cities. There's less than half as many as in 1910.

But in spite of the number of automobiles and tractors used on farms, the number of horses on farms is greater than in 1910. The total is 21,109,000, valued at nearly $2,000,000,000.

Evidently it will be a long time before the only horses in this country are stuffed specimens in museums.

HABITS
A railroad crossing watchman at West Chester, Pa., has worn two deep holes in the brick pavement where he stands duty, by constant tapping with his heavy walking stick during four years.

We think any preacher in Bismarck could use this as a text for a sermon on "Habit." Habits are like the stick tapping the brick. They bore into your character and finally the little holes become great cavities into which you fall.

INVENTORS OF COLD
Next time you eat ice cream, consider the debt you owe to Sambo Jackson, negro pastry chef in a New York tavern, who gave the world its first dish of ice cream 105 years ago this month.

For years, Sambo had a monopoly on the manufacture of ice cream, because he kept his process a closely guarded secret. All that is definitely known about his discovery is that it was an accident.

It might not be a bad idea to erect a monument somewhere to Sambo. And, while about it, surround his black-marble statue with effigies of the men who gave us the other things that help make summer endurable—artificial ice, lemonade, refrigerators and fans.

Ice, the gift of Nature. You may think it's only recently that man learned to cut it in winter and store it away in sawdust which, insulating, keeps out the heat and prevents thawing.

Yet as far back as the days of Nero, Roman slaves packed snow in underground pits, pounding it into ice for summer use.

Dealers in ice and packed snow were common in France 150 years ago.

In 1799, ice cut from a pond in New York City was shipped by boat to Charleston, S. C. That was the beginning of a great ice export business.

In those days, artificial ice was not commercially practicable. Scientists had experimented for centuries to produce low temperatures artificially, but the first American patent for making artificial ice was not taken out until 1834—by John Gorrie, a doctor in Apalachicola, Fla.

Charles Tellier, who died in 1913, was the inventor of cold-storage refrigeration, without which Bismarck and other cities would find it very difficult to exist.

When he was 85 he said: "The advantages of poverty are over-rated. The rich declare that poverty brings out a man's good points. Well, so it does—by the roots."

And Tellier knew what he was talking about. Despite the incalculable value of his invention to the world, he died in poverty.

Fans are ancient. All races have them. The cave man probably fanned himself in July with a dried palm leaf or a slab of bark.

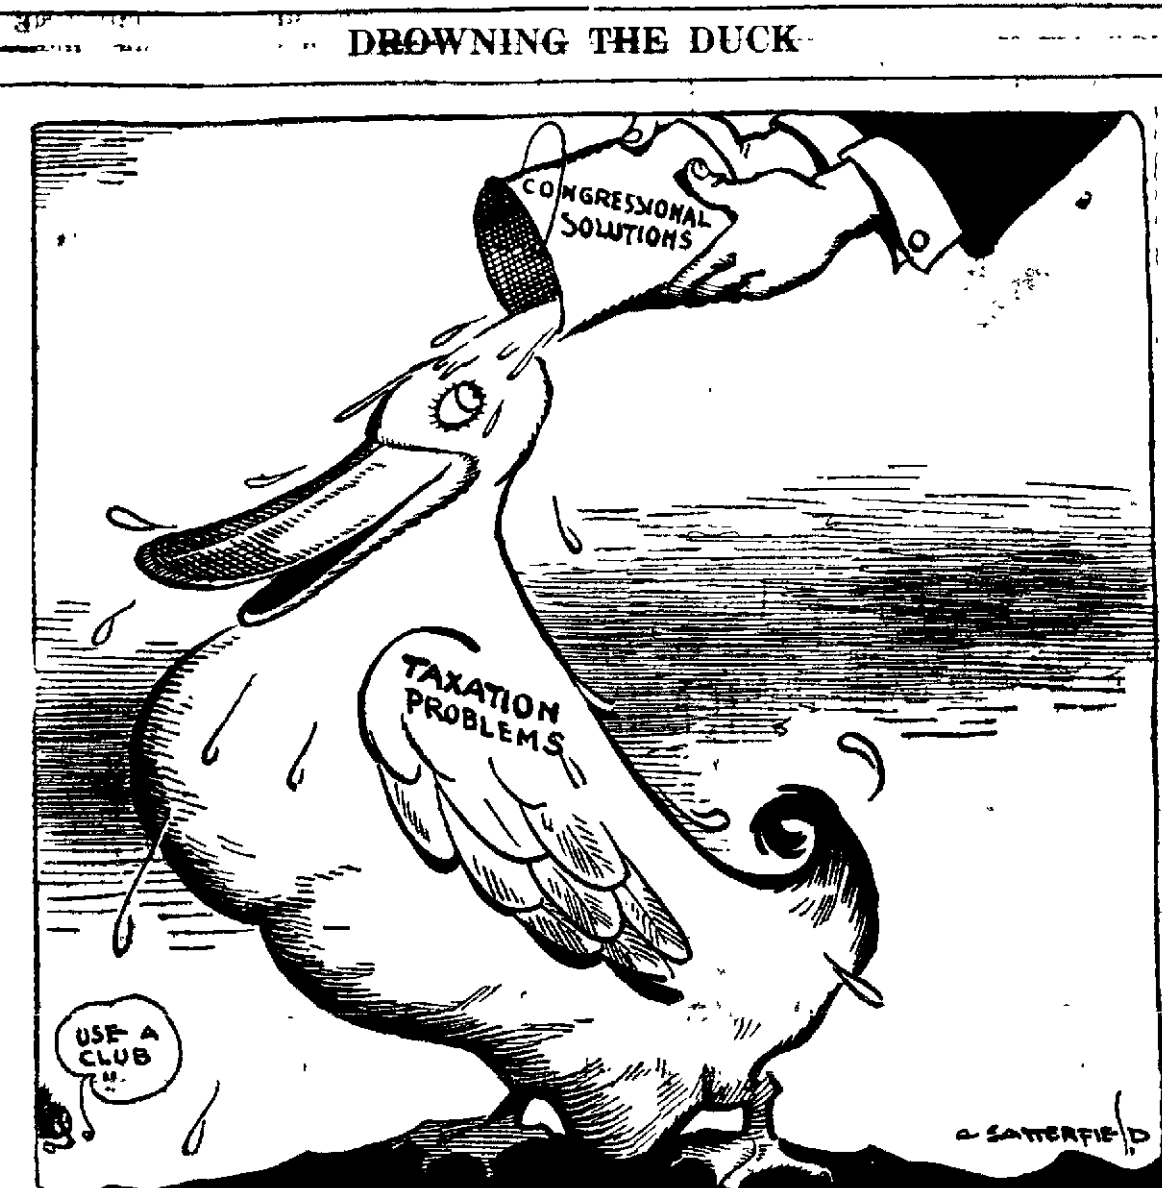

Electric fans, without which you'd find summer harder to endure, were of slow evolution, many contributing.

But they were made possible by Thomas Davenport, an impoverished Vermont blacksmith, who in 1834, built the first rotary electric motor.

Lemonade, alone of the five great reliefs from summer heat, cannot be traced to any individual. Lemons originally grew wild in India. Arabian armies transplanted them to Asia. The Crusaders carried them into Europe nearly 1000 years ago. Later, sailors brought them to America and planted them.

It has taken centuries, thousands of years, possibly millions, to put lemonade, ice cream, electric fans, artificial ice and refrigeration within reach of all.

What new devices for making summer more endurable will be discovered in the centuries that lie ahead.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Pretty soon Cob came sneaking along. Nancy and Nick and Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, the watchman, watched beside the Willow-Tree. Poppy, after Marty and Cob had slipped into the muddy water. They hadn't forgotten that Cob Coon had also telephoned that he had an engagement with Blackie Bass at nine o'clock that evening, and they wondered what had suddenly made Blackie so popular. But Sprinkle-Blow was suspicious, knowing Marty and Cob so well.

Pretty soon Cob came snooping along the lower branches of the willow-tree and looked down. "Good!" said he. "Not only has Mr. Sprinkle-Blow made the water muddy so that Blackie can't see me, but he has blown out the moon. All I have to do is to hang onto a low branch and reach down. I know exactly where Mr. Bass is, but he can't see me." And Cob rolled up his sleeves and tucked in his cuffs so they wouldn't get wet. "I do hope my claws are good and sharp for holding on," he said to himself, "for really old Blackie is the slipperiest thing."

"Wait here, kiddies," said Mr. Sprinkle-Blow. "I'm going to tell Blackie something. I'll be right back."

In an instant the little fairyman, got on his magic umbrella and disappeared under the top of the water, but almost at once he was back, nodding and smiling.

"I told him about Marty and Cob," he whispered. "The sleepy old thing was dozing. Thought there was no danger because he couldn't see. He's behind a big rock now, safe and sound. Let's see what happens"

"HELEN MARIA" DAWES PUTS IN BUSY DAY

BY H. B. HUNT.
Washington, July 23.—He practices what he preaches, does Charles G. Dawes, Uncle Sam's budget commissioner.

When Dawes came to Washington to show Uncle Sam how to save money, he recognized living in hotels is both expensive and inefficient. Quiet surroundings, agreeable companionship and home semblance of home life, he holds, is necessary to keep a man toned up and fit for his work.

Also, he figured, while two may not be able to live quite as cheaply as one, they can live a lot more cheaply together than apart.

So it was that an arrangement was made, in the common interest of efficiency, economy and comradeship, whereby Dawes and his old pal, General Pershing, share an apartment out at 2029 Connecticut avenue.

Before this hour of relaxation comes, however, Dawes will have put in a busy day.

Always Up Early.
Out of bed early—a habit he acquired even before he went overseas with the A. E. F.—he is through with his bath, shave and morning papers before breakfast is announced, at 7. Breakfast over, he bids Pershing adieu for the day. The general will ride down to the War Department. But Dawes will walk.

Motorman Not Losing Any Time

"I don't think anyone ever suffered more from stomach trouble and bloating than I have. I had to lay off my run more than half the time on could get no help from prescription or medicine. One of my friends advised using Mav's Wonderful Remedy, which I found to be the greatest remedy ever put on the earth. I have not lost a day since taking it. It is worth its weight in gold. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists."

Halfen Says 'There Isn't A Man In South Dakota Healthier Than He Is Now'

Among the many enthusiastic champions of Tanlac in Sioux Falls S. D. is E. H. Halfen, chief clerk at the Hotel Albert. His statement is characteristic of those which have made Tanlac a household word everywhere. He said: "In my opinion Tanlac is as different from any other medicine as day light is from darkness and I think my own experience proves it. Before I began taking Tanlac nothing I ate did me any good. The least bit of food would hurt me up with gas, pains, and heartburn. I could hardly breathe. I was so nervous I got scarcely any sleep and felt an intense weariness all the time. The little I did manage to eat gave me no strength and I grew weaker and thinner every day. "I do not know how Tanlac did it but it took hold of me right from the start and built me up, gave me a wonderful appetite and put my stomach in such first class condition that everything I eat agrees with me. I am as healthy a man as there is in the state, and while it is remarkable it is true that I have gained forty-five pounds in weight, and every pound of it is good, solid flesh. I just feel top-top, in fact, and want to go on record as saying that Tanlac is the best medicine ever made."

RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Miss Henrietta Beach of the Provident Life Insurance Co. has returned from Cleveland, Ohio, where she and Miss Ruth Kolling attended the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. There were nine delegates from this state, clubs at Fargo, Devils Lake, Grand Forks and Jamestown, also were represented.

Miss Beach was very much pleased with the personnel of the convention. It was not a body of militant suffragettes, but rather a group of sane, well-poised, successful business women, who are joined to become acquainted with each other, to assist in meeting each others problems, and with a view to mutual betterment.

The question of protective legislation for women was discussed pro and con, and the consensus of opinion was that women can never fully develop along business and professional lines if their hours of labor must be limited, and if a minimum wage is not necessary for women. The only class of women who need such legislation are young girls with no initiative, who, of course must be considered thoughtfully.

En route to Bismarck, Miss Beach spent a few days at the home of her parents in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Miss Kolling, who is visiting at the home of her brother at Nary, Minn., will return to Bismarck about the fifteenth of August.

By Their Clothes Ye Shall Know Them

MRS. ELIZABETH SEARS.

You've probably been jealous more than once of Sally, whom every one remembered at the convention. Oh yes, they all knew Sally—that girl over there in the blue dress with the Roman sash. The national president beamed on Sally and called her by name. And whenever any one sent a note to Sally, the page knew exactly who to take it to.

As for yourself—you were miffed at the page and the national president and felt like quarreling with yourself because no one ever remembered you at a convention. You examined your face and wondered what was the trouble with it.

But it isn't anything wrong with your face or the page or the national president.

Take a tip from Mrs. Elizabeth Sears of New York—wear the same dress and hat all through the convention!

"The successful woman conventionist," says Mrs. Sears, editor of the business woman's magazine and a much conventioned woman, "wears the same dress and hat throughout the entire meeting. Then every one knows her."

"She owes that to herself and to the folk who are going to want to find her. Don't you always say 'that woman in the white dress and green hat?' Then suppose she changes to a blue dress and a black hat!"
